

Taking account of the economic conditions of the past several years, the ongoing contraction of the industry and a response to calls for action from membership and suppliers, a group of industry leaders convened to explore opportunities to unify NAPL and PIA. In a recent meeting, the group was able to reach unanimous consensus to move forward with a plan and process to address the above issues which will greatly benefit members of the groups as well as the industry in general.